MOUNT SAINT AGNES

COLLEGE

we came young

and to be young is to be freely these things
(not always at the same time):

JOY

INTENT

and LOVE

and we begin . . .

Freedom is encountering encountering is many things:
PLACES
(we have lived with).

wandered

through

remembered;

and always the PEOPLE

in the places with the ideas

bringing us

to the ENCOUNTER.

By those who are wiser,

those as wise, and

by the lesson of aloneness

we learn.

Objects
are not objects
for a shelf

but for ourselves
that we discover

how much
we have to learn
and
why.

ANDRÉ MALRAUX
THE METAMORPHOSIS OF THE GODS

yields

person — object — relationship

With what we know ourselves

we barter
and argue,

criticize and conclude, but

always we listen

for yet another new thing.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower
President, Johns Hopkins University

Tempered with the learning that is being done
is the Myriad of EXPERIENCE

a collage of the happenings forming the patterns of freedom.

Pattern pieces are many,

The McAuley Hall Auditorium

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED TO ATTEND and form of their diversity, Continuity.

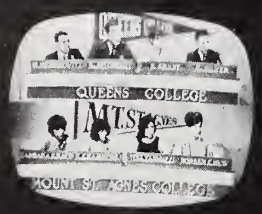
A framework emerges, wherein

unfamiliar things
become accustomed



and
familiar things
adventuresome.

Days
are crowded,

symmetrically unstructured,

and in between,

the learning never stops but edges,

in-then-out,
the totality

of all the wondrous

Other things,

made
memorable

and
meaningful,

by time and exploration.

RUSSIAN WORSHIP

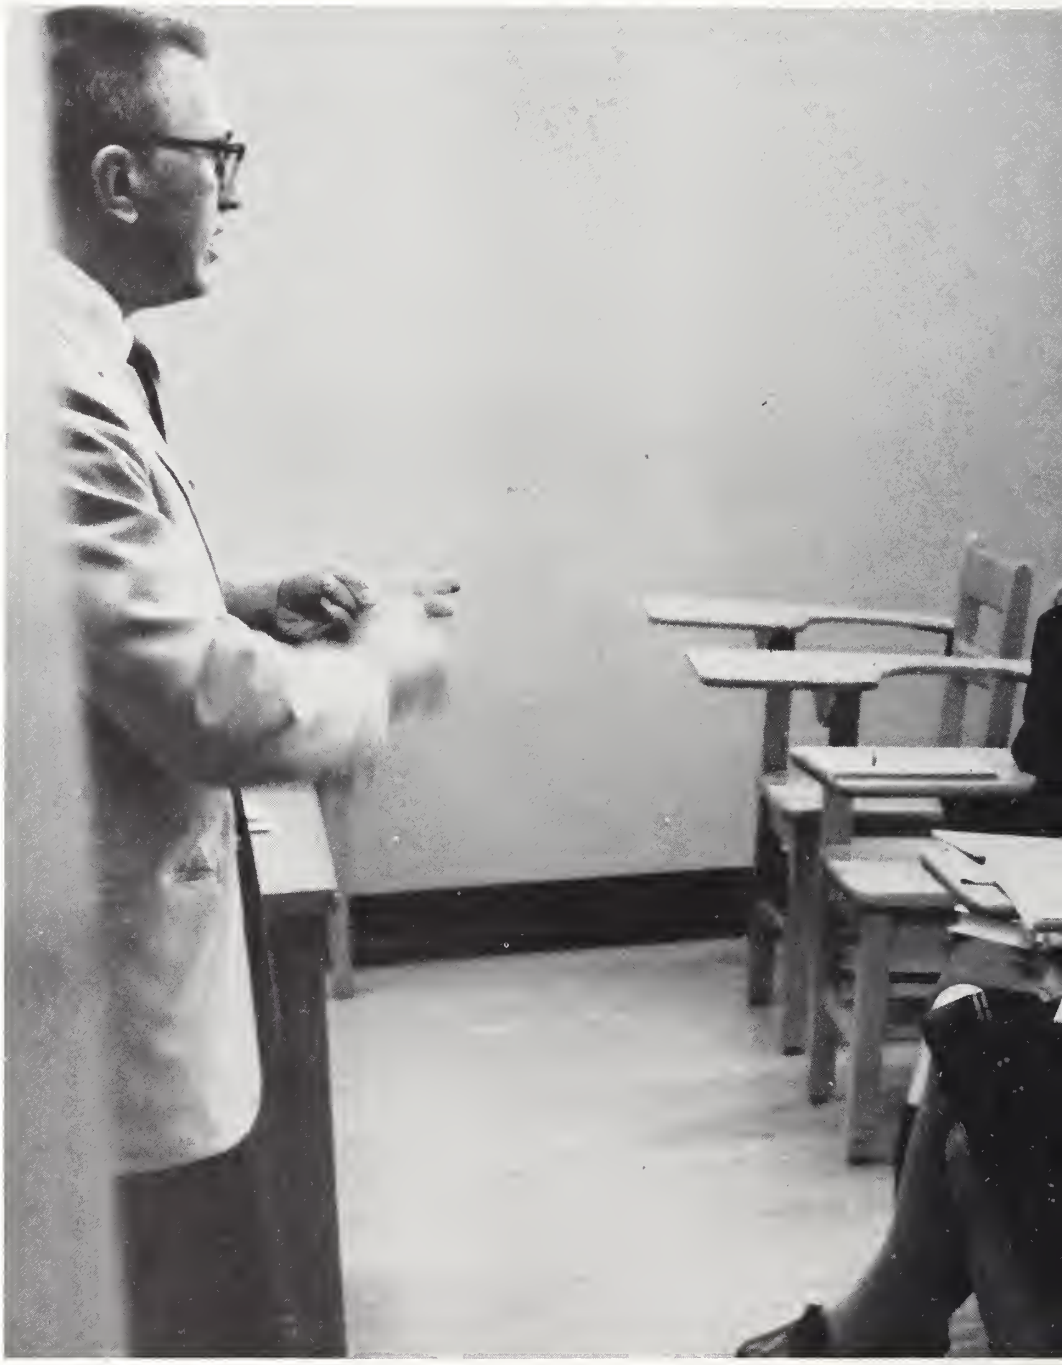
Some days and their discoveries
seem singled-out,

(somewhere)

but ∧ pattern pieces always hinge.

And they encompass
the bright days
the warm days
the days of rain,

the fun of the next discovery
in a book
in a poem
in a face.



And ever the learning and re-learning outstretched across the days and variance of seasons and (suddenly and slowly)

We begin to see
there is a meaning for discovery.
Man is not free not to be free, there is a responsibility for freedom.

What we have gleaned

from the people in the places, from the ideas in the books, from all the Grand Encounters must be organized,

intellectualized, abstracted and

applied.

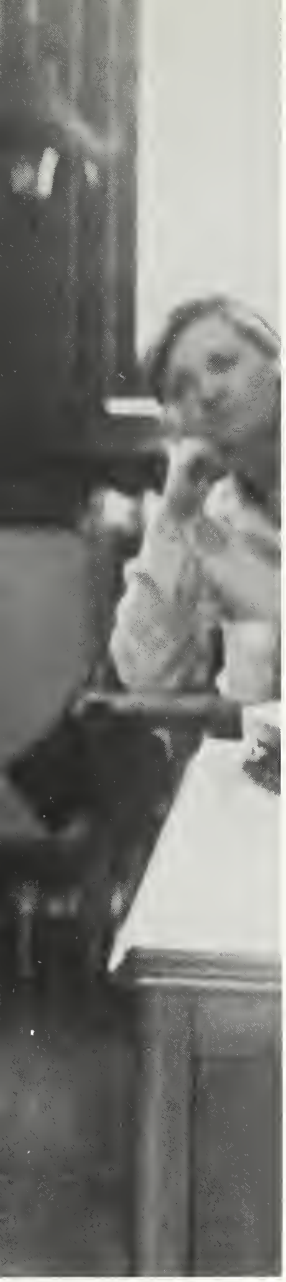
People must seek out people and communicate, associate one reality with another, so that joy, intent and love and learning are continuous, and the quality of each, extended.



Together and apart
(as individuals secure)
the searching starts again to use the newness (awareness) Some Where, Some How,

to make a better thing,

or try.
